OUTLINES.

Charles Oliver Jones, a well-known aviator, was killed yesterday by a view of 25,000 spectators at the trial Maine fair. His balloon caught fire and he fell 500 feet and was crushed to death under the frame. William J. Bryan in his speech at a Democratic rally in Sioux City, Ia., yesterday, denounced Coleman Dupont and Senator Penrose, of the Republican Executive Committee. At the Congressional convention of the Republicans of the Fifth District, in Greensboro yesterday, John Motley Morehead was nominated to oppose A. L. Brooks, Democratic nominee for Congress. Lumber to the value of $100,000 was burned at Cleveland, O., yesterday. Full returns from the Vermont election shows a plurality for the Republican candidate over the Democratic of 29,378. At Toledo, O., yesterday Taft and Foraker met on the reviewing stand of the Grand Army parade. They shook hands cordially and chatted pleasantly with each other. The organization of the Eastern Department of the Democratic National committee was announced yesterday. Senator Daniel calls at Democratic headquarters. He will enter the campaign in Virginia—Germany, without any warning, notifies France that she withdraws from the concert of powers in regard to Morocco. This causes consternation among Government officials in Paris. The bark Anburdale, Turks Island for Philadelphia, which sailed five weeks ago, is missing. It is thought she went down with all on board off Hatteras. The stewardess was Mary Moore, of North Carolina—New York markets: Money on call easy, 1 to 1 1/4 per cent, ruling rate 1, closing bid 1, offered at 1 1/4, time loans dull and steady. Flour firm and held higher. Wheat firm, No. 2, 1.01 3/8 to 1.04 1/8 elevator, options 3-4 to 7-8c higher. Corn firm, No. 2, 89 1/2 elevator, options 1 3/8 higher. Oats steady, mixed 52 1/2. Rosin quiet. Turpentine easy. Cotton quiet, middling uplands 9.30, middling gulf 9.55.

"Taft buys a new horse." We bet the Bryan trick mule can wallop it in a kicking match.

What is worrying the Georgia Democrats is how big they ought to make the Bryan majority.

Did Mr. Cox want it all the time or did he take it after much persuasion and against his will?

Yvette Gilbert advocates wearing "skirts to the knee". No doubt she thinks her physique would adorn the style.

An exchange says "they still call him 'Judge Taft'." And they will continue to do so after March 4th next.

There was one of the Springfield lynchings that the whole county can approve—that of the woman leader of the riots who lynched herself.

A steamship has just arrived at Boston with several hundred tons of rattan. This is a timely arrival as most of the schools for boys are about to open.

A Wisconsin girl refused to marry her fiancé because he rented a dress suit for the occasion. Was it false pride or because she thought she had discovered him to be a sham?

A preacher in Omaha has received ten thousand dollars in marriage fees. It is not stated how much the lawyers have received from the same persons as divorce case fees.

A contemporary remarks that the Norfolk Landmark is giving Bryan a very weak support. True; but it isn't near so thin as that accorded Taft by the Baltimore Sun about which so much fuss has been made.

The Mayor of Timson, Texas, has contributed his year's salary to the Democratic campaign fund. We do not suppose the sum will be above the "dead line" established by the National committee.

The sheath gown will hardly be popular with those women who, for personal reasons, are opposed to the knee-length skirt and think the modern style of bathing suit unbecoming to them.

The Merchants' Journal and Commerce publishes pithy paragraphs by editor Johnson, among them: "Best time to do a thing is when you have to"—too much like: "Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow."

As a man Mr. J. Elwood Cox stands well. He is rich and respectable. But can he impart his good qualities to the Federal office-holders who nominated him? Were he elected Governor would he be any better, officially, than his party?

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR

Holden, Bride of Mr. Stan-and Captain Carlton Weds Miss Kemps.

TWO PRETTY CEREMONIES

The First at Home of Bride's Parents Yesterday Afternoon and Other at Home of Bride's Brother Last Night.

A wedding of much interest to a large number of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Holden, No. 312 South Sixth street, at half after five o'clock yesterday afternoon when Mr. Alvah Harrison Stanland led to the altar Miss Bessie Morris Holden, both popular young people of this city, and they were joined in marriage in a pretty and most impressive ceremony performed by the Rev. Fred D. Hale, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The parlors of the home were attractively decorated in green and white, plants and flowers having been used in rare profusion, and were thronged with many friends and admirers of the young people to the marriage vow. The ceremony took place at an improvised altar of pure white and the scene is described by all in attendance as one of much loveliness and impressiveness, a soft light having been shed over all from numerous wax tapers in handsomely burnished candelabra. The bride entered the parlor alone, being joined at the altar by the groom, other members of the party grouping themselves about the altar where the solemn words were spoken by the officiating minister.

Miss Holden was attended as dame of honor by her sister, Mrs. Marion Emmet Graham, while the groom was attended as best man by Mr. Graham. The bride wore a beautiful hand-made lace robe, the same having been used by her sister to whom she was tenderly devoted at her marriage to Mr. Graham only a short time ago. Her bridal veil was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried a lovely bouquet of white asters. Mrs. Graham was attired in a becoming white embroidered robe and carried a bouquet of pink asters.

The bride is one of Wilmington's most charming young ladies and is much loved and admired wherever she is known. The groom is a son of Mr. J. Frank Stanland and holds a responsible position in the Roadway Accountant's office of the Atlantic Coast Line, numbering his friends in this city by the hundreds. A large number of very handsome wedding gifts attested the high esteem in which both are held in Wilmington and elsewhere, one of the especially notable presents being from the groom's associates in the department of the railway offices in which he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanland will be at home to their friends in this city at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. E. Graham, No. 410 North Fourth street, carrying with them to their new home the very best wishes of a great many friends.

Wedded Last Night.

Another marriage of much interest to their many friends was that of Miss Blanche Kemps, an attractive young lady of New Berlin, Pa., and daughter of Mrs. Georgia Kemps, of that place, and Captain Robert A. Carlton, of the United States Government dredge Jacksonville, now at work on the Cape Fear river and bar. The ceremony took place in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the bride and groom last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. N. B. Kemps, No. 422 South Front street, the Rev. Mr. Gibbs, of the Episcopal church, officiating. The parlors of the home had been most attractively decorated according to a color scheme of green and white, smilax, palms and ferns and cut flowers having been used in carrying out the effect in endless profusion. The ceremony took place at an improvised altar suspended over which was a beautiful wedding bell of orange blossoms and other pretty flowers. Captain Harry Kahler, of the Jacksonville, was the groom's best man while Mrs. N. B. Kemps was the matron of honor, the bride being given away by her brother. The bride was charmingly attired in white messaline satin trimmed with lace, and carried a lovely shower bouquet of white carnations. The matron of honor was similarly costumed, her gown being trimmed with Duchesse lace. She carried also an exquisite bouquet of pink carnations. Following the ceremony there was a reception at which Captain and Mrs. Carlton received the happiest congratulations and best wishes of the many friends assembled. They will make their home in this city at the residence of Mrs. Walker, No. 412 Princess street.

—Lieut. Geo. B. Rodney, of Jefferson Barracks, is in the city, a guest at the home of Mr. E. A. Metts.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETS

Regular Monthly Session Yesterday Afternoon—Ordinance Recommended Governing Storage of Hides and Other Products.

Except for the recommendation of the passage of an ordinance by the Board of Aldermen governing the storage of hides, wool, deer tongue and other products likely to give offense by noxious odors, the Board of Health at its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's office at the City Hall was largely engaged with routine matters. The meeting was called to order by Mayor Springer chairman, and members in attendance were Mr. M. W. Jacoby, City Engineer, C. R. Humphrey and Drs. A. H. Harris and C. T. Harper. The usual monthly reports, those of the superintendent, health officers and plumbing inspectors, were read and approved. A comparison of the analyses by the State chemist of both the city pump and Clarendon water supplies was discussed and both appeared to be excellent drinking water.

The resolution recommended to the Aldermen for passage as an ordinance was as follows: "It shall not be lawful for any person, firm or corporation to cure or store in any building or enclosure within the city any hides, wool or deer tongue or anything offensive to the smell without the written consent of the Board of Health, and after permission shall have been given by the Board of Health for the curing or storage of such materials, if the same for any reason become offensive, then the same shall be removed upon notice by the Board of Health."

The report of the Superintendent of Health showed that during the month of August there were 54 deaths from all causes, 26 of the decedents being white and 28 colored; 87 births, 47 white and 40 colored. The health officers made 5,891 inspections, issued 3,200 lime and acid orders and performed 12 fumigations. Two cases of diphtheria were quarantined during the month.

AFFAIRS OF THE LIBRARY.

Open Evenings to be Tried as Experiment During October—Notes. At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Wilmington Public Library on Tuesday it was decided to begin an experiment for one month beginning October 1st, keeping the library open evenings until 9 P. M. each night for the accommodation of many patrons who do not find it convenient to visit the rooms earlier in the day. This step has been under consideration for some time but the Trustees have been unable to thus extend the service with the meagre appropriation made by the city for the maintenance of the institution. During the month of October, however, the experiment will be made and if the increase of expense is not too great the extension will be continued indefinitely. A separate assistant librarian will be in attendance evenings and it is believed that the results will be highly satisfactory, if the expense can be met.

It has been hoped that as the usefulness of the library became more and more evident, the private subscriptions would increase but very little money has been given of late. To stimulate interest in this giving by individuals in however small amounts, it has been decided to place on the desk in the rooms a small bank for the contributions of any visitors to the library who may feel impelled to donate something toward maintaining the splendid institution.

At the meeting of the Trustees on Tuesday it was decided to adopt a new rule for borrowers of books so that hereafter no volumes will be selected by the librarians for borrowers who send messengers. Patrons will be required to either send list of books they desire or come in person and make the selections. The custom of sending cards by messengers for books began very slowly at first but it has increased from time to time to such an extent that the new rule was imperative. It is hoped that patrons will make note of this rule and govern themselves accordingly.

SERVICE TODAY.

Grateful to an all-wise Providence and a kind Heavenly Father for the mercies vouchsafed to the people of Wilmington in sparing this city when so many other sections have suffered so greatly from the effects of the recent floods, in response to the call of the ministers of the city, all residents and visitors to Wilmington, who care to join in the expression, both ladies and gentlemen, are invited to attend a mass meeting at the Academy of Music today at noon for the purpose of rendering public thanks to God for his blessings to the people of Wilmington at this time. A programme has been arranged and the whole people of Wilmington are invited to attend. Business houses are asked to close between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock in order that employees and proprietors may attend the service.

STATE'S LIABILITY

Care of Leper Recently Isolated in Washington Considered by Attorney General.

FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT

Association Formed in Raleigh—Seaboard's Excursion to Niagara.
Lawyer Left Will—Other Capital News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 2.—On his return to the city today after two months absence, Assistant Attorney General Hayden Clement took up the investigation of the question of whether the State should receive from the Federal authorities the leper, J. R. Early, of Lynn, N. C., being detained and isolated in the District of Columbia where he went to look after the matter of securing a pension from the Federal Government for injuries sustained while serving in the army in the Philippines and elsewhere.

Those opposing the State's taking the leper off the hands of the Federal authorities do so on the ground, principally, that the disease was contracted by Early in the service of the United States and that the government should not now shirk the care of him. The question of the State's action in the matter comes to the attorney general's office through the State Board of Health, the Federal authorities having officially called upon the State Board to provide for the leper in this State. It will doubtless be two or three days before Attorney General Clement announces his decision.

A charter was issued today for the North Carolina Farmer's Union warehouse Company, Charlotte, capital $125,000 authorized and $1,600 subscribed by J. W. Craft, J. W. Little, W. S. Pharr and others for warehousing all kinds of produce and manufacturing articles including raw and manufactured cotton.

Now that Mr. Thomas O'Berry, of Goldsboro, has been appointed chief marshal for the State Fair here in October, the preparations for the social features of the big event will go on with every possible dispatch. Assistant marshals will be named very soon, representing every section of the State. The outlook for the fair in every way is especially bright.

Right Reverend Joseph Blount Cheshire, Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, has just returned from his European trip, during which he attended the Pan-Anglican Congress and the Lambert Conference in England. He was delighted with his trip in every way and with the State of the general church as he found it reflected in these great gatherings of the leaders.

The Raleigh Good Government Association is just organized here for the purpose of bringing about a number of reforms in the city government, notably the improvement of the personnel of the Board of Aldermen by electing the members of the board by the vote of the people of the city at large rather than by wards and by securing a reduction of the running expenses of the city government looking to making it possible to keep the public schools running the usual nine months in spite of the loss of the dispensary income, instead of cutting the term to six months as seems necessary under the present conditions. Hon. R. H. Battle is president of the Association.

The largest personally conducted tour that ever left Raleigh started over the Seaboard Air Line this morning for Niagara Falls, Toronto, Thousand Islands, New York, Washington, Atlantic City and Washington, D. C., being personally conducted by Major C. H. Gattis, traveling passenger agent for the Seaboard Air Line, and Mrs. Gattis. There are about 125 persons in the party including quite a number of the most prominent people of the State. The party is due to return to the State September 16th. In the party are people from Raleigh, Charlotte, Durham, Goldsboro, Salisbury, Monroe, Reidsville, Gibson, Wilmington, Fayetteville and other points.

An investigation of the office and papers of the late S. G. Ryan, the well known lawyer who was found dead in bed Monday morning here, develops the fact that he leaves a will by which all his property is bequeathed to Dr. Hubert Haywood, a prominent physician of Raleigh on account of long and zealous attention to Mr. Ryan's late wife who was for a number of years an invalid. The property is estimated at several thousand dollars principally in bank account.

Will Robinson, colored, was brought to Raleigh today on a Seaboard south-bound freight train dangerously wounded, having been shot, he says, between Petersburg and Norfolk while riding in a freight car with several negro "hoboes." He says he was with the tramps for sometime and when he started to get off he was accused of being a Seaboard detective, hunting evidence against them. Robinson claims that he is a Raleigh negro although no one has been found yet who knows him.

Raleigh was without gas a good portion of today on account of a remarkable smash-up at the gas plant. A fly wheel on the engine went to pieces in some unaccountable way. A huge piece went crashing through the floor of the second story and another was driven deep into the thick wall of the gas house. Fortunately no one was in the way of the flying castings. A substitute fly wheel was found in a local machine shop else the accident would have caused much more serious deprivation of gas for the city.

MAN CHARGED WITH FRAUD

E. B. Vann Alleged to Have Obtained Money on Fake Orders Sent to His House—Committed to Jail Yesterday.

Charged with defrauding the company by which he was employed of several hundred dollars, E. B. Vann, a young white man of good appearance, was arrested yesterday on the affidavit of Mr. H. M. Wade, general manager of the Cochran Showcase Company, of Charlotte, N. C., and was committed to jail in default of a $300 justified bond for his appearance for preliminary trial before Justice Bornemann this morning at 9 o'clock.

Vann from all accounts has been spending a month or more in Wilmington and during this period is alleged to have committed the frauds with which he is charged. He accepted a position with the Cochran Showcase Company, to cover this territory and was allowed a certain commission on his sales. He sent in quite a number of orders on which his commission amounted to several hundred dollars, and he demanded his money from the company as soon as the orders were sent in. The company on his statement, acknowledged the same to be correct and on each occasion he was forwarded a check. He is charged with having obtained some $211 above his legitimate commissions. An investigation by the company later revealed that many of the concerns he is alleged to have sold to did not exist, and that he had obtained the money under false pretence.

Mr. Wade came to Wilmington, arriving yesterday morning and reported the matter to the officers. Search was made for Vann and Deputy Sheriff Piver arrested him yesterday afternoon on Princess street. He was carried to Justice Bornemann's office and there had a conversation with Mr. Wade, but nothing was accomplished in his favor by this conference. The outcome of the preliminary trial this morning is looked forward to with interest. Vann, from what is understood, spent money freely and was apparently living in a lap of luxury. He seemed to be popular among his associates and when his arrest became generally known yesterday afternoon it created much surprise.

THE CAMERAPHONE

Latest Device in Moving Picture Machines to be Seen Here.

The latest sensation creator in the moving picture world is the French invention, the Cameraphone, and it is understood that arrangements are being made now looking towards an engagement of this attraction in Wilmington at an early date. These arrangements have not been completed as yet, so nothing definite can be given out. Wilmington has had a little of everything in the motion picture market save the Cameraphone, which is a machine made to furnish the vocal and other noises that the moving pictures lack. In other words, the figures on the screen are made to apparently talk and sing, while other noises, such as the "honk, honk" of the auto, the clanging of the fire-engine bell, the bark of the canine, etc., are furnished, thus making the pictures decidedly more realistic and giving genuine novelty to them. Also in this way scenes from different well known dramatic successes are presented, and recognized vaudeville stars appear life-like before the audience and render their famous songs. The Cameraphone has created quite a stir in this country and has wonderfully stimulated the moving picture market, although the machine has been presented but in comparatively few places in the United States as yet.

CANOE RACES LABOR DAY.

Much Interest in Meet at Wrightsville Beach Monday Afternoon.

There is much interest in the canoe race which will be one of the Labor Day attractions at Wrightsville Beach Monday of the coming week. The start will be at 4 o'clock and the type of canoe to be used will be canvas covered, cedar. The equipment required will be two men and two paddles to each boat while two cushions and one baler will be allowed to each boat. The line-up will require the stern of each boat on the starting line, sufficient distance to be left between each boat to prevent interference. The men must be standing erect and not touching the boat at the call of ready and the fire as a signal to start. The course will be from the starting point at Lumina, through the surf, out to sea, around an anchored buoy, keeping buoy on port side, and back to starting point. The first prize will be two gold medals engraved and the second two silver medals also engraved. Those who desire to enter the race should apply to Mr. Raymond Hunt at the office of the Tidewater Power Co.

tion of today on account of a remarkable smash-up at the gas plant. A fly wheel on the engine went to pieces in some unaccountable way. A huge piece went crashing through the floor of the second story and another was driven deep into the thick wall of the gas house. Fortunately no one was in the way of the flying castings. AFTER MATH OF FLOOD

Conditions Rapidly Becoming Normal But Great Damage Has Been Wrought.

DEVASTATION IN PENDER

Loss in Canetuck Township is Appalling—Railway Traffic is Rapidly Being Opened Again—Other News of Floods.

Except for further and more detailed reports of the fearful havoc to growing crops and property in Canetuck township, Pender county, the conditions there being appalling, there was little change in the flood situation here yesterday. The city is still cut off from railroad transportation on the three lines using the tracks which are inundated between here and Navassa, but elsewhere traffic conditions are rapidly becoming normal.

The water over the tracks in the Navassa lowlands were higher yesterday than any day since traffic was blocked, this being due to the high tides sweeping up the river in the teeth of the freshet, the worst of which is believed now to have passed. At Natmore, Bladen county, only a short distance up the river, the river was said to have been on a standstill yesterday. Very high tides prevailed in the river harbor here yesterday and many wharves along the water front were overflooded. However, no damage resulted though some property had to be removed to higher ground, notably barrels of naval stores on the wharves across the river. The transfer of all railroad traffic by boat to Navassa from Wilmington is still in effect and it will likely be two or three days before the lines are again open. Mr. J. D. Edwards, union ticket agent for the two roads here, received advices yesterday that all through lines on the Seaboard are now open, the first trains to Charlotte having been operated yesterday on the Carolina Central. The Coast Line also has its main line traffic in operation again and from now on things in the railroad world are expected to rapidly assume normal. There was a report in the city yesterday that the city of Georgetown, S. C., had been covered with water like Augusta according to the prediction of Section Director Bauer, of Columbia, but advices by telegraph were that while the flood there was higher than ever known, there was no great devastation of property in that city.

At Crony, on the Seaboard Air Line, the water in the creek there was within a few feet of the embankment of the railroad and very near the station, though trains were not delayed. Several houses in the lowlands there have been under water for several days.

Great Damage in Pender.

The Star yesterday received a letter from Mr. M. H. Pridden giving a graphic account of the damage done by the freshet in Canetuck township, Pender county, 30 miles above Wilmington. With the Messrs. Nunnally, seven in the party, Mr. Pridden boarded a gasoline launch at Moore's Creek battleground at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and made a tour through the centre part of the flooded district, taking the public road at what is known as Heading Bluff and going to the Canetuck Chapel. The distance is seven miles and the party traveled in the launch without leaving the road. The conditions are described as appalling. Nearly everybody's house was under water except that of Mr. J. A. Dew and the dry land was only 30 feet wide and 50 yards long with his store lacking only two feet of being up to the eaves. His loss will be $2,000 or $2,500 to store and farm. Going further they found the dwelling houses from two feet deep on the floor to ten feet and some with only the chimneys above water. Beds and other household furnishings were floating around in the rush of waters. Everything was lost by many families except what they wore when they fled before the rush of the flood.

Mr. J. Q. Herring was one of the heaviest losers. With his family he was forced to abandon his home, the house being under water to the tops of the windows. His two mules are on 6x8 feet of dry land on top of a saw dust pile and what chickens and hogs he had left are on top of his saw mill shed. His saw mill is under water eight or ten feet deep. His and two other families are stopping at Mr. W. P. Croom's where the water has reached very nearly to the floor. Seven families Tuesday were camping right out in front of the Canetuck Chapel in the graveyard, an elevation of 40x50 feet. They slept in the church on benches Monday night and have been on the ground ever since. Several of the mothers are with little children in the woods like so many cattle. There have been no casualties so far as can be learned. A colored girl died on the place of Mr. J. M. Marshall and the body had to be taken from the second story window and carried in a boat on Sunday night to a higher elevation two or three miles away to be buried. The water is near the floor of the home of Mr. D. J. Corbett, Sr., and it lacks only three inches of being over the floor of the kitchen of

EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

The plea of emotional insanity in trials for murder, of which one hears so much these days, is not a new thing, though it is relied on more frequently than formerly. It is at least half a century old. It was the invention of John Graham, a noted criminal lawyer of New York, who first pleaded it in defense of General Sickles, who shot Key some fifty years ago. Under the law of the land as construed up to that time Sickles' case was one of murder in the first degree. The public looked upon it as a cold-blooded assassination. The "unwritten law" was not practiced then. Graham recognized the fact that he had a desperate case and that there was no chance of acquitting his client by the usual methods. So, as a last resort, he made use of the plea of emotional insanity, invented by him, and by skillful management and his wonderful eloquence in his speech to the jury he acquitted his client, and thus established a precedent which has since been followed with success by lawyers in many cases.

When this plea was made in Thaw's case it was generally supposed that it would be effective and secure his acquittal, and there was much surprise when the jury failed to bring in a verdict of not guilty. This may indicate—and we hope it does—that there is coming about a change in public sentiment on this subject and that in future juries will not be so prone to acquit defendants where there is no other defense but emotional insanity.

THE PEOPLE'S CAMPAIGN FUND.

From all over the country there come gratifying reports of the liberal manner in which the people are responding to the call from the Democratic National committee for campaign funds. The idea to make a people's campaign is meeting with general approval, and the people are showing their willingness to defray its expenses. The latest instance of this is the occurrence at the Oklahoma State convention on Tuesday when an appeal by Governor Haskell for funds resulted in a contribution of $18,300. The newspapers throughout the whole country are raising contributions and many of them have secured large sums, and this work for the party is growing as time goes on.

SOUTHERN REPUBLICANS.

With all their ostentatious display of political energy in the South we do not believe the Republicans expect to carry a single Southern State.
The local managers are trying to make the national party leaders believe they stand a chance of securing some electoral votes in this section, but we cannot think they will be so badly taken in. The object of the local leaders, of course, is to secure big slices of the national campaign fund, and, no doubt, a good deal of money will be sent to this and some other Southern States, not with the idea that it will secure any electoral votes, but for the purpose of capturing some of the Congressional districts and of increasing their representation in the State Legislatures. If the Southern managers can do this it will give them higher standing with the national leaders and the next administration if it is Republican.

"Elsewhere we reproduce a strong and thoughtful editorial from The Cordelle (Ga.) Rambler, in which that paper unqualifiedly endorses the Constitution's suggestion of a National law against interracial marriage, supplementing the arguments used in these columns with clear and vigorous logic of its own. Reflecting faithfully universal Southern sentiment on an issue regarding which the South is qualified to speak with finality, the viewpoint of our contemporary is well worth the serious consideration of thinking Americans, irrespective of location."—Atlanta Constitution.

No such National legislation can be expected so long as there is such a large negro vote in a number of the Northern States.

The Monroe Enquirer says that many Democrats of Union county who attended the State convention came home swearing they were done with conventions and demanding a State Primary, and that a number who participated in the recent primary in that county declare they are done with primaries under present conditions.
What's to be done about it? If both conventions and primaries are to be done away with what will become of the party?

Review of Reviews for September contains an interesting review of the present political situation in articles on the manner of conducting the campaign and on the various parties and their candidates. It also treats of aerial navigation, war on the "white plague," and finance. In addition there are articles of interest to persons not interested in such subjects as above enumerated. It is a very entertaining number.

Some newspapers are poking fun at Governor Johnson for accepting the nomination after stating so positively that he would not do so. He would have shown great ingratitude to the Minnesota Democrats had he not accepted it.

How disappointed the country will be if Foraker makes up his mind to be good during the whole campaign.
Perhaps he sees signs of his forced retirement from the Senate unless he does so.

Rockefeller should have learned by this time that public institutions do not want his gifts with the big strings tied to them. Maybe that he knows this is why he keeps on making the big offers.

The newspapers are asking Editor Hildebrand of the Industrial News whether he is going to vote for Kitchin, as he said he would do or will he eat crow by coming over to Cox?

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Very probably, the managers of the Republican national campaign have already "framed up" what they regard as good and sufficient and all-satisfying explanations for any possible election returns from Vermont to disclose materialities there as the result of the battle of the ballots today for State and local officers. They are very likely to be called upon to use some of these explanations, too.
—New York Commercial Sept. 1st.

—In advocating an intolerable alliance between the country and China, the New York Herald says: "Westward the star of empire takes its way, and shall take its way, peacefully or otherwise." The "course of empire" as foreseen by the good Bishop whom The Herald misquotes, was of an empire of peace—not "otherwise"; nor should any patriot wish for the extension of empire otherwise than in peace. But, in any event, an alliance with China is absolutely inconceivable.
We could not, if we would, thrust the Chinese from our western coasts and join hands with them in a war of conquest in the Far East.—Columbia State.

—The Clinchfield coal people, who already have opened headquarters in Charlotte as a preliminary step to making this city a great coal distributing centre, are people worth knowing. Their policy is broad, liberal and progressive. The Chronicle learned, in a way that newspaper men have of catching on to facts that as soon as this company learned of the flood distress in Augusta, it sent off hand a car load of coal to that city, to be applied as needed. It was done quietly and with no idea of publicity in the newspapers or otherwise. The Clinchfield people are all right. We are glad to have them in Charlotte—Charlotte Chronicle.

—It was a little over three years ago, that W. P. Bynum, one of the most prominent Republicans in the State, and one of the brainiest, said of the faction of the party which was then trying to retain control of the party machinery, "their success means it will be absolutely a party where greed, grab and graft are the cardinal doctrines, and where honest independent thinking Republicans can have no potential influence." A few months later, Hon. Romulus Linney, while attending the criminal term of Federal Court in Greensboro, appearing as attorney for several revenue officers and distillers who were under indictment for defrauding the government, seriously accused District Attorney Holton and Judge Boyd of a purpose to compel the holding of the next Republican State convention in the Atlanta penitentiary.—News and Observer.

—Recent operations on the Stock Exchange and the appointment of a special committee under the direction of the governing board to inquire into the facts and report upon possible remedial measures for putting a stop to abuses, raises the question whether that organization is capable of reforming its own methods, or will have to be subjected to public regulation. This is a question of the utmost importance to the Exchange itself. A bill was introduced in the Assembly last winter providing for a commission to investigate the methods of the Stock Exchange and report upon the need of legislation to remedy alleged evils. If the inquiries of the special committee of the Exchange produce no satisfactory result, satisfactory we mean to the public mind, and not alone to the members of the Exchange, some such investigation is likely to be ordered at the next session. Another bill was introduced last winter embodying rather drastic legislation without waiting for investigation, and its author has already avowed his intention of reintroducing it at the next session if he is re-elected, as he evidently expects to be. This would require the Stock Exchange to be incorporated, subject it to certain specific regulations and give the Superintendent of Banks supervision over it. Among other things it would require "every Stock Exchange corporation" to make a written report to the Superintendent of Banks "in such form and containing such matters as he shall prescribe," and would make it the duty of that official "at least once in three months" to designate some day therein in respect to which the report shall be made."—Journal of Commerce.

LEPER EARLY GETS A PENSION

Government Allows Him $72 a Month For Total Disability.

(Charlotte Observer Special.) Washington, Sept. 1.—John R. Early, the leper, will receive a pension of $72 a month for total disability incurred while a soldier in the army, according to the statement today of the Commissioner of Pensions. The pension will begin as soon as the legal difficulty which surrounds the payment of the money can be solved.
These difficulties are due to the fact that the man cannot, because of his segregation, spend the money himself, and the judge advocate-general of the army has been asked to solve the problem.

"The case is unique in the annals of the army. If Early were a drunkard or insane or a minor, we could have a guardian for his estate appointed, but he is none of these."

It has been suggested that he be placed in a house in the vicinity of a soldiers' home so that he might technically be considered an inmate of that institution. The officials of the home could then sign and execute the vouchers and the money be paid over to his wife.

LABOR DECLARES FOR BRYAN.

Federation Union Endorses Action of Elevator Constructors Millwrights.

New York, Aug. 31.—After long debate last night, the Central Federated Union, which is the central organization of the labor unions of this city, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, endorsed a resolution adopted by the Elevator Constructors' and Millwrights' Union. This resolution reads as follows:

"At a special meeting of the above organization held on Aug. 27, 1908, it was resolved that we pledge our support to the president of the American Federation of Labor and the executive board of the same by our votes to defeat the Republican party, which has been responsible for the drastic action taken against labor's just demands."

"We pledge, further, our support to William Jennings Bryan and the Democratic party in the coming election for protecting organized labor by in-serting in their platform a labor recommendation and pledging its support to the same."

Several delegates declared they thought it wrong for the body to take any part in party politics.
A motion to table the resolution was lost and a motion to spread the resolutions of the Elevator Constructors' and Millwrights' Union on the minutes of the Central Federated Union was carried.

MON. WM. H. BAILEY DEAD.

Prominent North Carolinian Dies in the State of Texas.
(Charlotte Observer.)

The sad intelligence has reached Charlotte that Hon. William H. Bailey, Sr., died in Seabrook, Tex., at the residence of his son, William H. Bailey, Jr., on Thursday, August 27th, 1908.

Mr. Bailey will be deeply lamented by many friends and relatives in this State. He lived in Salisbury for nearly ten years; and he and his good wife entertained their guests with lavish hospitality. Late in the fall of 1874 Mr. Bailey removed to the city of Charlotte and entered into partnership with Hon. William M. Shipp, whose term as Attorney General had just expired and who afterwards became a very distinguished Superior Court judge. In 1882 Mr. Bailey was elected as a Democrat, to represent Mecklenburg county in the House of Representatives and was appointed chairman of the judiciary committee. He won much distinction in that body and became known as "Bailey, of Mecklenburg." Some years ago Mr. Bailey retired from practice and went to Texas to live. He was a prominent member of the Masonic order.

Another Kind.

When Johnny Hobbs left his home up among the New Hampshire hills to visit his grandmother in Worcester Mass., he was cautioned by his mother that he would find things in the city strangely different from those at home.

Johnny arrived in the early afternoon, and long before tea time his grandmother, who lived most simply, told him to run out to the pantry and get a bowl of milk which she had left there "for a hungry boy."

A moment later she followed him and, to her amazement, beheld her grandson bravely at work on a bowl of spearmint tea which she had forget-fully put in the place where she had told him to find the milk.

"Why, child," she cried, seizing the bowl from poor Johnny, "don't you know this isn't milk?"

"I-I knew it wasn't like Hullybury milk," stammered Johnny, with a final gulp, "but I thought maybe it was the kind folks had in Worcester."

Danderine

GROWS HAIR

and we can

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action.
The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected.
It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Known as Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.
One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

James Monroe
Fifth President of the United States.

IT was in the Hall of Oratory, William and Mary College, 1776. Patrick Henry stood on the platform; eloquently, passionately, convincingly he spoke of human rights, constitutional guarantees, Personal Liberty.

A young student, tall and blonde, with eyes of blue and heart of fire, listened intently. Tossing aside cap and gown, he buckled on his sword, saying, "Words are good; deeds are better."

At Harlem, White Plains and Brandywine, he fought bravely; and on a bitter cold Christmas morning his blood splashed the frozen paving stones of old Trenton Town.

Step by step he rose to power; and today his name is inseparably associated with the most significant international Doctrine of modern times.

At three score and fourteen he died—a true Virginia gentleman—the descendant of an old family of Scottish Cavaliers—and at his hospitable home at Oak Hill, good ale was brewed and ever on his board.

Heap Little Man.

[Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.]

Joe was a street gamlin who joined us at the close of the civil war and marched with us to the Indian country. He was ragged and dirty and wicked—tougher than any bumster the war produced. We all tried to make him better, but failed. He was taken in hand by General Custer, but with no better luck.

Joe was allowed to hang out with us and make the long journey to Fort Leavenworth in our company. Some of the officers tried to bounce him, but we of the rank and file helped him to get through. He wasn't old enough to enlist, there was no show for him as a bugler, and when we finally started across the plains he was ordered to remain behind. We bade him goodbye, but three days afterward he overtook us, having a mule of his own. He was also armed with a serviceable revolver. The officers shut their eyes to his presence for three or four days, and then he was ordered back with some newspaper men and others. He then did a thing to show that he was utterly without fear. Instead of going back in company he went ahead all alone. For two days he kept ahead of the command and then rode back to report a force of Indians gathered to dispute our progress. He brought in an Indian arrow in his saddle and another in his mule's rump as proofs that he had been to the front. His information was acted on, and it was through it that we gave the Sioux a good tanning.

Joe's display of pluck made him solid, so to say. He was permitted to hang about camp, and the company tailor fixed him up a uniform. Thereafter he was one of us in a way, and he paid for his rations ten times over by serving the officers. When kindly spoken to there was nothing he wouldn't do to oblige. When ordered to do anything he was as stubborn as a mule. More than a dozen times he went on scouts all alone, and twice he brought in the ponies and weapons of Indians he killed. It was for this that the Kaw Indian scouts we had with us named him Heap Little Man. There wasn't a trooper in the brigade that wouldn't have contributed money to send the boy back east into good hands, but he wouldn't hear of it. He could neither read nor write, but he knew the value of silver and paper money and said that was enough for him.

The boy had a good voice for singing and had remembered the airs and words of a score of songs, but when out of camp and on the march he never sang but one song, and that only the chorus of "John Brown's Body." He'd sing that over and over until some of the officers came along and bade him hush. The rest of us might turn out for boots and saddles at midnight, cursing the weather and the order, but Joe would turn out singing that chorus. We'd go into a fight cheering, but he never cheered. Instead you'd hear his shrill voice piping—

"Glory, glory, hallelulah!
Glory, glory, hallelulah!
As we go marching on."

We tried to keep him out of the fights, but it was no use. He would disobey orders or break away from his guards, and when he mixed in he went straight to the front. He had a score to be proud of, but no one ever heard him brag. He fought because fighting was a part of his programme. When complimented on his bravery he gave no thanks in reply.

When we started on that winter Wichita campaign Joe was with us. We started out in a snowstorm, with the band playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and Heap Little Man singing the old chorus. Military history will tell you that the camps of the Indians along the Wichita were located before midnight and that Custer's command had to wait hours for breakfast. The snow was two feet deep and the night freezing cold, but every trooper had to dismount and stand by his horse. No moving—no talking. Joe stood next to me, and I do not think he shivered once. Over and over again in a whisper he sang his chorus and now and then let up to say that he hoped there were at least 5,000 Indians in the camp and that we should have a good fight of it. I don't think there was a man or officer there that night that took things as coolly as that kid. He was the first one mounted as the whispered order came along, and the band had scarcely struck up "Garry Owen" as we charged than he followed it with his slogan. We made a complete surprise, but the Indians rallied after a bit and put up a stiff defense. When it was over and we were ordered into line for roll call Joe was missed. His name was not on the roll, but we looked around in vain. Then he and others were sought for. The fight had raged up and down the stream for two miles, but we found Joe within half a mile of where the headquarters flag had been set up and where the fight had been the hottest. He was lying in the snow with his dead mule not far away. Around him were the dead bodies of three buck Indians and a squaw. The latter had a rifle in her hands and had fought as well as the men. Joe had three wounds and was dying, but had not lost consciousness. As we lifted him up he smiled and called us by name and asked how the fight had gone. Then his bloody lips parted, and, trying to wave his hand, he sang for the last time on earth, and he sang it to the tears of his comrades:

Making Ready For the Opening—The Crystal Palace.

Naturally with the start of September thoughts of the amusement loving world turn to thing theatrical. Locally, there is already a flutter in the theatre line in preparation for the season of 1908-09. Next week things will be gotten in shape at the Academy of Music, which opens September 19th, with the popular actor, Norman Hackett, in the well known success, "Classmates," while Al. G. Field's Minstrels will come the Monday following, the 21st. The bookings for the season have not been given out as yet, but it is understood that the attractions for this season are good ones, being more this year than last on account of the railroad trouble now being over. It was for such reason that the Field show did not play Wilmington last year, thus missing this city for the first time in many years.

While the Academy will not open until the 19th, yet the Crystal Palace will get under way Labor Day. There this week all is hustle and bustle, making ready for the opening, which will be especially auspicious as it falls on a holiday. The theatre is being improved in many ways and is being splendidly made ready for the opening. Painters have been at work all week on the little playhouse. New scenery and some pretty decorations have been added, while new carpet has been laid in the aisles. The Palace this year will be a member of the Schloss Circuit of Theatres, but will be devoted entirely to vaudeville and the best in the vaudeville line will be given. A novel and exceptionally clever opening attraction will be given and will be announced by tomorrow.

Mr. S. A. Schloss, who will personally direct the management of the theatre and do so in accord with the high plane upon which his many other theatres are conducted, left the city yesterday to close a contract for the opening attraction and announcement of such will be made tomorrow.

MRS. ELLIS PASSED AWAY

Death Occurred Early Yesterday Morning—Funeral.

The death of Mrs. Maria J. Ellis, which occurred early yesterday morning at the home of her daughter Mrs.
R. S. Haddock, No. 204 Castle street, following an attack of acute indigestion, was learned of with infinite sorrow by her numerous friends. She was apparently in good health last Tuesday and suddenly became ill that night and her death followed shortly.
Mrs. Ellis was held in high esteem by her many acquaintances and was admired for her lovable disposition.
She was the widow of the late D. C.
Ellis. She was 66 years of age and surviving her is one daughter, Mrs.
Haddock, and three sons, Messrs. U.
C. and E. R. Ellis, who reside in Wilmington, and Mr. Early Ellis, of Concord.

Attended by a large number of sympathizing friends the funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock conducted by Rev. K. D.
Holmes, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, of which the deceased was a devoted member. The remains were laid to rest in Bellevue.

Messrs. Hopkins & Davis.

Elsewhere in today's paper will be found an announcement by Messrs.
Hopkins & Davis, successors to J. F.
Garrell & Company, Incorporated. The new firm will continue the fresh meat business at the same stands in Front street market, carrying at all times the very best in their lines and making prompt delivery of all purchases.
The stalls are Nos. 1 and 2 on the south side and Nos. 2 and 4 on the north side of the market.

Mr. A. L. Pridgen, who lives in some of the high sandhills between both rivers. The fine steel bridge at Still Bluff is said to be a foot and a half under water. A person in a bateau at Moore's Creek battleground can go a straight course to Brunswick county across the western edge of Pender county, a distance of 10 or 15 miles, there being only a few sandhills out of water. Mr. Pridgen has a rural route No. 2 that goes from Currie, a distance of 27.1 miles right through that district and but for six or seven sandhills he could go in a boat the entire route. Some of his mail boxes are seven feet under water. As far as can be learned Mr. Pridgen says that 70 or 80 families had to leave their homes, losing everything but what they wore and a frying pan to cook in. In two-story houses there to six families are in one small upstairs, black and white families living together until the flood subsides. They are soon to return home with all live stock, crops and fences washed away.
All of the bridges are gone. Several of the sufferers have remarked that unless aid is received from citizens of the State they will have to make an appeal to the National government for assistance. Many of them have not a square meal and nothing with which to buy the next. A gentleman here from the Mississippi valley says that he never saw such floods in the low lands there. The water is from five to seven feet higher than ever known before. Mr. Pridgen carries the rural route through the stricken section and will be pleased to deliver any assistance that may be sent to the sufferers. There are no trains running to Currie. Cape Fear river was at a standstill Tuesday, but Black River was rising nearly an inch an hour Tuesday night.

A graphic description of the devastation wrought in Canetuck township is also given by Collector of Customs R. F. Keith, who is among the heavy losers on account of the high waters, and who returned home yesterday after being in the vicinity of the flooded district since last Saturday night.
Looking at the situation from a casual point of view Mr. Keith stated that the damage of the flood will surpass any destruction from this cause in this section in history. The fine farming section in Pender known as "Egypt" has been completely flooded. The water ranged from four to ten feet deep, and besides destroying the crops, which from all appearances would have made a splendid yield, considerable cattle has been killed and between 70 and 80 families have been forced to desert their homes. Most of these people are camping on knolls and several incidents are reported where six and seven families are occupying one house.

Mr. Keith stated that he urged his tenants to gather as much of the crops that were in maturity as possible the day before the water reached that section, but they seemed confident that there was not the slightest danger of being flooded and consequently all of them have been lost. From Mr.
Keith's farm some 75 bushels of corn were gathered, but his entire farm consisting of 1,000 acres is practically all under water.

The loss cannot be estimated until the high waters recede. The area covered by the flood waters is from 15 to 20 miles square and crosses the entire country from Black river to the Cape Fear, making a perfect sheet of water with the exception of the knolls. The water reached that section Sunday morning and the rush was partly due to the breakage of the dam at White Oak swamp. It reached its height yesterday, being at that time from 10 to 15 feet deep.

Mr. T. W. Wilson, another of the heavy losers in that section, was here yesterday and reported similar conditions. The situation is critical for the farmers. Many of those who saved their stock have no feed for them and are dependent upon their neighbors until the water recedes.

Dr. McKanna's Treatment

Is Worth Every Dollar It Costs.

For the benefit of those who need treatment for the liquor habit, but are putting it off on account of the expense, I want to state that my treatment is worth every dollar it costs and that it will actually save money for every man who takes it in from three to six months. If you only spend an average of 50 cents a day for liquor (and what regular drinker does not spend more), you spend more than $180 a year for something that wrecks your health, your business and your home.

If you are a victim of the liquor habit, do not delay in getting my treatment, as it means not only money saved, but increased earning capacity.
After a man takes my treatment he is a more ambitious, harder working business man or employee, and is worth more to his business or his employer.
There is no question in regard to the efficacy of my treatment. I have treated more than 20,000 during the past twenty years, and have never failed to effect a complete cure. I have accepted all cases as they come, no matter what stage or how many other treatments had failed, and no man who has taken by treatment can say that I did not cure him. I don't use dangerous hypodermics. Neither are there any bad after effects whatever. If you are interested, call or write to me today for full information in regard to my treatment.

The above advertisement was composed by my seven year-old son, John Freeman Gaylord, who was in the chicken yard building a duck-coop and had the misfortune to stick a nail in his foot. His mother put him to bed and as he could not use his feet he began to use his head and had his mother to be penman while he dictated this little ad. The advice he gives "Buy your goods from George O. Gaylord" is seconded by many a voice. The fair dealing and low prices backed by the immense stock of goods, shown in a large and beautiful store that carries an assortment of merchandise that is used to make comfort and happiness in almost every step of life. The main reason why we can under-sell competition is that the different stores that you enter through our door is under one management and one ex-

AERONAUT WAS KILLED DENOUNCED REPUBLICANS

Thousands of Horrified Spectators Saw Charles A. Jones Fall 500 Feet to Death—The Balloon Caught Fire.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) Waterville, Me., Sept. 2.—In full view of 25,000 horrified spectators, assembled on the Central Maine fair grounds late today Charles, Oliver Jones, the well known aeronaut of Hammondsport, N. Y., fell a distance of 500 feet to his death. Among the witnesses of the frightful plunge were Mrs. Jones and child and they were almost the first to reach the side of the dying man. Jones died an hour and a half after the accident.

Jones had been at the fair grounds with his dirigible balloon "Boomerang," known as a Strohbal airship, since Monday. Today he arranged to make a flight between three and four o'clock but such a high wind prevailed that a delay was necessary. At 4:30 conditions had modified and he gave the word to have the machine released.

When the aeronaut reached a height of more than 500 feet the spectators were amazed to see small tongues of flame issuing from under the gas bag in front of the motor. At this time the balloon had passed out of the fair grounds. Many persons in the great crowd endeavored to apprise Jones of his danger, but several minutes elapsed before he noticed the fire. Then he grasped the rip-cord and by letting out gas endeavored to reach the earth.
The machine had descended but a short distance when a sudden burst of flame enveloped the gas bag and the frame work immediately separated from the bag. Jones fell with the frame of his motor and when the spectators reached him he was lying under it. The gas bag was completely destroyed. The physicians who were in the crowd found that Jones had no chance to survive as he was injured internally, and his spine was broken.

Jones had trouble with his balloon yesterday on account of the cold weather Monday night, which caused a number of leaks through the contraction of the gas bag. It is thought that the bag leaked again today, and that a spark from the motor caused the disaster. Jones was 40 years old.

REMAINS OF DROWNED MAN

Found on Eastern Point of Murrell's Inlet, in Horry County, S. C.

A letter to the Star under date of August 29th, from Burgess postoffice, Horry county, S. C., gives particulars of the finding of the remains of a drowned man on the eastern point of Murrell's Inlet there by some fishermen the day before. The letter states that the body might have washed up there 12 or 15 days ago as the sand partially covered it and it was de-cayed to such an extent that hardly anything but the bones remained. The remains appear to be those of a man about six feet tall. On making an examination closely Mr. S. T. Leonard found that the man, when drowned, wore a pair of corduroy trousers and a leather belt though no shoes or other clothes could be seen. Mr. Leonard believes the remains to be those of Captain A. M. Guthrie, of Southport, who was recently drowned from the schooner Frank Williams off Lookout about five weeks ago. He says that from the location of the drowning the ocean currents would have brought the body down the coast that far but if any of the crew remembers as to the trousers Captain Guthrie wore, the identification would easily be made. Any further information may be had by addressing Mr. Leonard at the office named.

MRS. E. H. DANFORTH DEAD.

Telegram Received Yesterday Bringing Sad News to Friends Here.

A telegram received here yesterday announced to many friends and admirers the sad news of the death of Mrs. Edward H. Danforth, which occurred very suddenly on Sunday afternoon at her home, No. 136 Lafayette avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. The family lived here several years ago and made a great many friends, who will receive this announcement with sincere sorrow and the tenderest sympathy for the bereaved ones. A devoted husband and son, Dr. Earl H. Danforth, are left to mourn their loss. Many friends will recall the death of another son, Mr. Edward Danforth, so well liked here and who died in South America a few years ago. Now the mother passes away, loved and esteemed by all who came within range of her delightful personality and charming manner. The interment will, of course, take place in New York.

CONVENTION ADJOURNED

Fourth District Republicans Cut Off By Floods in Chatham.

(Special Star Telegram.)
Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 2.—The Republican convention of the Fourth Congressional District to nominate an opponent to Congressman E. W. Poulder, adjourned today without nominations because the Chatham county delegation found it impossible to reach Raleigh on account of the floods. The adjournment is until next Wednesday, September 9th, when the general expectation is the nomination will go to Willis Granby Briggs, now postmaster at Raleigh. Among the others are J. W. Atwater, Chatham; Zack Garrett, of Vance, and H. B.
Pearce, of Johnston county. For elector ex-Judge W. A. Montgomery is prominently mentioned.

Mid-Week Dance Last Night.

A large number of young people last night attended and were delighted with the pleasures of the regular mid-week dance at Lumina. The pretty pavilion still has many attractions for the young people and the series of dances to be given there during the winter promises to be a decided success.

Dupont and Penrose, of Republican Executive Committee, Are Named in Bryan's Speech at Democratic Rally.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 2.—Addressing a Democratic rally here tonight, William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for the Presidency, denounced Coleman DuPont, of Delaware, and Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania, members of the Republican executive committee as not being expected to become reformers because, as he charged, all of their affiliation was with the trusts.

Having travelled the entire night and day through Minnesota and a part of Iowa, where he received enthusiastic receptions, Mr. Bryan arrived here shortly before 8 o'clock tonight.
From the rear platform of the train at various points he shook hands with hundreds of persons and made several talks. At Alton, Iowa, a junction point, he discussed at length the tariff and the subject of guaranty of bank deposits. He again charged Mr.
Taft with not being satisfied with the Republican platform and with being forced to continually amend it.

During a two hour stay in St. Paul between trains, Mr. Bryan took breakfast in an uptown cafe, which he reached after a brisk walk. On the way back he observed in a music store window an announcement that the stock included phonographic records of his speech on guaranty of bank deposits and of Mr. Taft on instructions on labor disputes. He entered the place and at his request both records were re-produced. His town remarks were heard first and as the last word died away, he smilingly remarked: "I am now convinced."

At the station here to meet the Nebraskan were Mayor Sears, State Committeeman Beck, former Mayor Quick-Van Wagoner and many other leading Democrats. No sooner did the crowd catch a glimpse of him as he alighted from the train than he was lustily cheered by several thousand people. The cheering continued as he rode to the hotel. He will depart at 5 o'clock in the morning for Lincoln, travelling to Omaha via the Chicago and Northwestern and the balance of the way over the Burlington, reaching home at 10:30 o'clock.

THE LOCAL CAMPAIGN.

Call for Meeting in Court House Next Wednesday Night—Advisors.

Chairman John J. Furlong, of the County Democratic Executive Committee, is allowing no grass to grow under his feet in his efforts to roll up an old-time New Hanover majority for the ticket here. He stated yesterday that within the next few days he would issue a call for a mass meeting of Democratic voters at the Court House next Wednesday night for the purpose of forming a Bryan and Kitchin Club. This club will be charged with maintaining an active campaign of education and the dissemination of Democratic principles. It is expected that there will be a very large attendance.

Chairman Furlong yesterday named an advisory board to the executive committee to assist with the campaign in this county. This committee is composed of Hon. John D. Bellamy, Messrs. Herbert McClammy, Marsden Bellamy, Jr., Woodus Kellum, Cameron F. MacRae, Martin Newman, Jas.
H. Cowan and Jos. E. Thompson.

Arrested for Storebreaking.

At Bradley's Creek Tuesday night Deputy Sheriff W. W. Pearsall, of Pender county, and Magistrate J. H.
Sykes, of New Hanover, arrested Lum-mie Moore, colored, charged with breaking into the store of J. Goldstein, at Rocky Point, last week and stealing a pair of shoes, two coats and a number of other articles. He confessed the robbery and implicated two other negroes in Pender whom Deputy Pearsall telephoned yesterday to have arrested. Moore was taken to Pender and given preliminary trial before Magistrate Durham yesterday morning. Several articles stolen from the store were recovered in Moore's room at Bradley's Creek by the officers.

"Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store did me more good than anything I ever used. My back ached most of the time and I could not stoop or lift

CIRCUS SEASON IS HERE.

Gentry Brothers Cancels Date—Cole Brothers Coming in October.

With the advent of Fall the youthful heart lightly turns to circuses, theatricals and things like those. It will be a disappointment to many to know that a date for Wilmington by Gentry Brothers' dog and pony show, which is now touring the State, was recently cancelled. Votaries of the sawdust ring and trapeze will, however, make with pleasure a mental note of the fact that Cole Brothers' circus will be here for two performances on Monday, October 5th. The show trains will arrive Sunday from some nearby point and a usual amplified performance following the week-end will be given.
The circus will be handled into Wilmington by the Atlantic Coast Line and it is said to be a good one this year.

Fire Early Last Night.

Fire of unknown origin, possibly resulting from the explosion of a lamp on a dresser, damaged the furniture and other effects in the living apartments of the family of Jas. H. Scull, Esq., on the third floor of the Smith building, on Princess street, early last night. Members of the family had been away and when they returned were surprised to find the dresser in flames. An alarm was sent to the department from box 22 at 9:24 o'clock but the flames had been extinguished by the time the firemen arrived. Mr.
Scull suffering a bad burn of the hand in his effort to save the contents of the room. He estimates his loss at upwards of $100 upon which there was no insurance.

BIG LUMBER FIRE.

$100,000 Worth of Lumber Burned—Other Property Damaged.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—Fire this afternoon destroyed lumber valued at $100,000 in the yards of the Saginaw Bay Lumber Co. The flames swept over two acres covered with lumber piles. A strong wind fanned the fire and for a time it was believed the big central viaduct and the Nickle Plate Railway bridge would be damaged, although both are largely constructed of steel. The wooden ties on the railway bridge caught fire several times, but the structure was not seriously damaged.

Nerve Tonic that they are selling under a positive guarantee.

Its merits are becoming the talk of the town and everybody wants to try it don't do you good—not one cent.

Why is Sugar Sweet?
If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet.
GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth, but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. Is just as good for Grown People as for Children. The First and Original Tasteless Chill Tonic. The Standard

Fred Moore, of the 15th judicial district, Judge J. D. Murphy, of Ashe-

THE MAN KILLING CAMEL.

A Turk's Consideration For the Brute's Future Owner.

There had come with us from Hebron a Turkish soldier riding a young camel whose virtues he boasted and indeed exhibited—the clean limbs, the stride and the docility of the beast. It seemed a worthy camel—a camel of excellent humor and of distinguished promise —and it was much coveted by the way.
At night, as the custom is, the man was used to sleeping close to his beast the winds being chill, but now at Rafael, while the mules were unloading and the cook was coaxing his fire, he tethered the camel, flung his saddle on the sand and went off to the mud barracks to hobnob with the Egyptian frontier guard. I was presently alarmed by the cook's outcry and a rising excitement in camp. The docile camel was viciously trampling his master's saddle, stupidly believing that he was engaged in his master's murder—a savage and dreadful attack, a rearing and heavy plunge.

"What?" ejaculated the Turk when he was informed of this: "Have I cherished a man killer?"

The camel was heartily beaten and reduced to his knees, whereupon his doubled fore leg was tied so that he could rise but with difficulty, and we withdrew to observe his behavior, for his master was not yet convinced. Rise he did, a persistent, silent effort, and cautiously approached the saddle, which he attacked as savagely as before, but now with one hoof.

"I have had a narrow escape," said the Turk. "My camel would have killed me tonight. By God and Mohammed, the prophet of God," he swore, "I will sell the beast in the bazaar at Beersheba."

I inquired concerning the future owner's prospect of long life.

"He is in God's hands," was the answer.—Norman Duncan in Harper's Magazine.

A Great Way Off.

Mr. William Miles, late verger of Rochester cathedral and the original of Mr. Tope in "Edwin Drood," was a great favorite with the late Dean Hole. On one anniversary of the verger's birthday, after a pleasant greeting, the dean asked:

"How many children did your mother have?"

"Oh, I am the eldest of twelve!" replied Mr. Miles.

"Then," said the genial dean, "you never saw your youngest brother."

"Oh, yes, I did," answered Miles.

"What! With ten miles between you?" said the dean chaffingly.

Convention Call

By order of the Republican execu-sional District, together with that of the chairman of the adjourned convention, in joint session, the Republican convention of the Sixth District of North Carolina is called to meet in Wilmington, N. C., on Thursday, September 17th, 1908, at noon for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress and a Presidential Elector, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. This August 26th, 1908.

C. ED TAYLOR, Secretary.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Greensboro Record: Mayor Brandt was greeted with a heavy docket at his Monday morning's session of police court, the most of the cases charging drunkenness.

—Greensboro Record: Greensboro young men in the ministry kept walking up. Rev. R. W. Weaver, well known here, has accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Nashville, Tenn., and has entered on his duties.

—Charlotte Observer: A unique private car, "Hildago," of the National de Mexico line, passed through the city Sunday night, attached to No. 35. The car attracted much comment while standing in the yards. Nothing could be learned as to its occupants.

—Charlotte Observer: No. 82, one of the fine passenger trains operated by the Atlantic Coast Line, spent a few minutes in the city Monday morning en route North. This train had been held up in Florence, S. C., since Friday by the flood.

—Salisbury Watchman: The good old steady farmers of Rowan seem to look upon organization with indifference. The Southern Cotton Association utterly failed to bring them together. And, advocates of the farmers' union now endeavoring to organize the county, are meeting with a similar coolness.

—Goldboro Argus: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Broadhurst, who have been spending a number of months in Silver City, N. M., for the benefit of Mr. Broadhurst's health, which, his many friends here will be gratified to know, has been greatly benefited, arrived in the city this morning and are the guests of his parents, Capt. and Mrs. D. J. Broadhurst, on William street, south.

—Durham, Aug. 31.—Judge Jones' charge to the jury this morning was red hot. He said he had no sympathy with the enforcement of the law which hauled up English sparrow negro gamblers but let men of fortune spend their time in gambling and go unpunished. He spoke in terrific arraignment of cruelty to convicts. The charge greatly pleased the bar.

—Rockingham, Sept. 1.—The Republican ticket nominated in Charlotte last week is not being very enthusiastically received here. Mr. Cox, nominee for Governor, has been particularly disapproved of. The Anglo-Saxon, edited by ex-Sheriff John M. Smith, a Republican, in its issue this week says: "If headed by a popular man the ticket would be a strong one. Mr. Cox, the candidate for Governor, has but one element of strength and that is money. He is a banker, a State-wide prohibitionist and is very rich. He cannot poll the Republican vote of this section."

—Monroe Enquirer: This is not given as news, for everyone "to whom these presents come" knows that it has rained some in this section this week, but is given as a matter of record only. From Sunday afternoon last to sunset Wednesday the rainfall was 15.68 inches. To show how big that rainfall is by comparison we will state that the heaviest rainfall during any month since the establishment of the weather station at Rock Rest, four miles east of Monroe, thirteen years ago, was 14.50 inches. That was in August, 1901, the year of the big floods. Three days of rain this week beats the 1901 record for a month over one inch.

—Charlotte Observer: The anti-prohibitionists are very much disgusted with the Republicans. It was an open secret that they wanted to vote the Republican ticket if the plank on local option elections for liquor rang clear. But when the platform made such a cunning dodge the Morally Stunted took a fall and it was a hard one. One good Charlotte citizen, who is a great believer in local self-government, spoke slightly of the "Patriots," as Mr. Linney called them. He said: "The Republicans have handed us a hook without a bait." That is the way the disgruntled fellows feel. "What is the difference between the two parties?" is asked.

—Lumberton Robesonian: The colored people who live on the low-lying land on the other side of the river from the town have been surrounded with water for several days and have been obliged to use boats in going to and from their houses, and water has reached into the yards of homes beyond the National Cotton Mills. Some of the colored people have taken advantage of the opportunity to fish from their porches, and at one house a great slamming of doors marked an effort to catch a large catfish that had drifted into a room. A whiskey still, it is said, innocently floated into view Saturday afternoon near the National Cotton Mills, but just whence it came no one could say.

Big Labor Day Excursion.
Thomas H. Knight's excursion to Newbern Monday, September 7th, Labor Day, will be the last excursion of the season to the dear old town where pleasure reigns everywhere and so many thousands delight to go. There will be a game of baseball in the afternoon. This will interest you. Train will leave Union Station at 7:30 A. M. and will leave Newbern on the return at 10:00 P. M. The round trip is only $1.50.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Sept. 2.—After making new low records for the bear movement early today the cotton market had a sharp rally and closed very steady at a net advance of 6 to 14 points. Sales were estimated at 125,000 bales.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 4 points in response to better Liverpool cables, larger English spot sales and scattered covering, but quickly declined under local bear pressure and liquidation encouraged by talk of easier southern markets and good weather in the South. October sold off to 3.88 and January to 8.25 or 3 to 5 points net lower and into new low ground for the movement, but no stop loss orders were caught on the decline and during the middle session the market rallied on covering by October shorts, and buying of that position by one of the large spot interests against sales of December and January. October was relatively firm on the advance and sold up to 8.56 or 13 points above the low level of the morning and 13 points net higher. The close was at practically the best point of the day. Southern spot markets as officially reported were 1-8 to 1-2c lower and it is said that these markets have declined between 3-8 to 1-1/4c during the past week. Contracts, however, are still said to be about 75 points below a parity, and while most of the local traders talk bearishly, sellers appear to be somewhat less aggressive pending further declines in the interior markets and in view of possible bad weather causing a further modification of new crop estimates.

Receipts at the ports today 10,077 bales against 9,801 last week and 7,070 last year. For the week 100,000 bales against 71,496 last week and 48,022 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 283 bales against 292 last year; and at Houston 6,222 bales against 4,341 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 9.30; middling gulf 9.55; sales 523 bales.

New York, Sept. 2.—The dry goods market was steady with a very fair trade reported in piece goods in the jobbing houses. Satin faced silk piece goods are in active demand and ribbons are selling very well in the jobbing houses and with agents. A belated demand for duplicates of Fall underwear is noted in primary houses. Prints and ginghams are being purchased steadily for early shipment and some spring business in ginghams is being booked. Yarns are quiet.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, Sept. 2.—The tone of the speculation in stocks today showed a degree of distrust and hesitation. The feeling was based on the heights to which prices have been carried already and found expression in refraining from further buying and bidding up of stocks more than in any active attempts to get them lower. Money on call is almost a drug on the market and the scanty supplies of desirable commercial paper are eagerly sought for investment. The railroad mortgage market is affected in the same way. The report that foreign investors are joining in this demand is less easy of comprehension in view of the international exchange situation. London and Berlin were reported large buyers of stocks here today and this was an important factor in the early strength of the market. The increasing exclusiveness of the demand to the Harriman stocks with the neglect of the general list was a source of dissatisfaction to those long of stocks. American Smelting broke with some violence and the whole list sold off. Remnants of the advances were left in the strongest stocks.
Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, were $5,812,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today were 676,600 shares. The stock exchange today voted to close on September 5, preceding labor day on which day the exchange will also be closed.

FOREST FIRES CAUSE DAMAGE

Covers Territory in California and Placed Calaveras Group of Trees in Danger.

SETTLERS FIGHTING FLAMES

One of The Seven Wonder of the World May Be Destroyed—PERSISTENT Efforts Being Made to Check Flames.

Sonora, Cal., Sept. 2.—The Calaveras group of big trees one of the natural wonders of the world, is in serious danger tonight of destruction by fire. Starting from sparks thrown off by an engine used to haul logs on Monday last the fire quickly spread to the heavy timber, a mile west of the North grove of big trees. All the forest rangers in the district were quickly gathered and they together with the settlers many visitors living in camps around and in the grove, and the employees of the hotel have fought the flames. They have thus far saved the hotel, but have been unable to prevent the fire gaining headway in a direction that tonight menaced the giant sequoias.

Conflicting reports, however, were received here as to the extent of the damage done up to this time. The first point of telephonic communication with the grove is Murphys, some fifteen miles distant and from this place late today word was sent that the fire had reached the edges of the grove of mammoth trees, and, driven by a strong wind, was threatening to wipe out everything before it. There is little if any undergrowth of bush among the big trees. It is hoped and believed by the settlers and rangers that the fire will not readily take hold of the living trees. The dead giants, however, will probably be destroyed. Already "the mother of the forest," a great dead hulk at the edge of the grove, is aflame and like a great glowing torch is threatening its living neighbors. "The mother" lies 327 feet long with a trunk 75 feet in circumference, and it will take perhaps weeks for the flames to consume it.

The destruction of the big grove would be little short of a calamity. The only living specimens of the sequoias gigantea, or big trees, are those found in California, and there are but four groups of these, containing many notable trees. Of these the Calaveras grove is probably the most remarkable.

It was thought last night that the fire had been finally brought under control but this morning a strong wind came out of the west and quickly fanned the smoldering embers scattering the sparks in every direction.

The fire on Monday burned the Southside of Alpine Ridge, and a large force of men turned out to fight it. The next morning it broke out in three places and fanned by a noon time wind, again turned toward the great grove. Soon a glaze was seen to break from the top of General Grant, one of the finest of the giant trees. The upper branch of Garfield, standing nearby also caught fire but the fire did not burn lower down in either of these trees.

A. J. Whitesides, owner of the big tree grove and the hotel is packing his belongings preparatory to leaving. People in the vicinity are much distressed and have turned out for miles to assist the forest rangers. It is believed that no one has perished, although deer and mortals are fleeing from the country. It is reported that a mountain lion and a deer were seen running side by side this morning paying no attention to each other intent only on saving their lives.

COMMITTEE ORGANIZED.

The Organization of the Eastern Department Announced.

New York, Sept. 2.—The organization of the Eastern Department of the Democratic National Committee was completed late today and National Chairman Norman E. Mack officially announced that National Committee member Robert S. Hudspeth, of New Jersey, had been chosen vice chairman of the committee to manage the campaign in the East with a sub-committee of twenty members composed of National committeemen and prominent Democrats of the East to assist him. Chairman Mack further announced that John E. Lamb, of Indiana, had been made vice chairman of the executive committee and that George W. Greene, National committeeman, of Rhode Island, had been chosen vice chairman of the committee on club organization. Herman Ridder, of New York, has been made head of the publicity bureau in the Eastern headquarters and John J. Kennedy, of Buffalo, has been selected as secretary of the National committee here.

United States Senator John Daniel, of Virginia, who has been abroad with the monetary commission for a month, called at headquarters today and told Mr. Mack that he was going back to Virginia to take up the threads of the campaign and would make several speeches.

FRANCE AROUSED AT GERMANY'S ACT

Breaking Up The Concert of The Powers in Regard to Morocco.

GERMANY TO ACT ALONE

In the Recognition of Mulai Hafid Without Regard to Algeiras Act of Signatory Powers—Great Excitement Among Officers.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The action of Germany in breaking up the concert of the powers with regard to Morocco by notifying the signatories of the Algeiras act that she considers the actual situation demanded the immediate recognition of Mulai Hafid, the usurping Sultan of Morocco, has fallen like a bomb shell in Paris. A feeling of approaching consternation is manifested in official circles.

The notification which was made verbally, is not accompanied by any explanation of Germany's "brutal change of front" as it is termed here, and in Government circles the action of Germany and the despatch to Fez of Dr. Vassel, the German consul at Tangiers, can no longer be tolerated.

Officials can see in Germany's action only a virtual proclamation of her intention to disregard the Algeiras act and seek a special position in Morocco for herself. The consequences both from the international and the French standpoint are expected to be deplorable.

As if in answer to Germany's call for recognition of Mulai Hafid before he has entered into any engagements with Europe, fanatical Arabs who had been gathering on the Algerian frontier attacked yesterday the French post at Boudeln.

The Associated Press is in a position to present the official French view of the situation:

Germany's notification came as a complete surprise to France and Spain who are engaged in elaborating a programme of demands, to be presented to Mulai Hafid for the safeguarding of the common interests of Europe and America in Morocco. These demands are to be submitted to the signatories of the Algeiras act as soon as they are completed and the powers were so notified eight days ago. Germany took no exception to this course and we presumed that she was entirely satisfied until suddenly there came this crash out of a blue sky.

There was no longer any question of upholding Abd El Aziz. Both France and Spain recognized that he had disappeared definitely from the horizon. What we proposed to do was to force Mulai Hafid to ratify the engagements of his brother, Abd El Aziz, toward Europe before recognizing Mulai Hafid before he has given any guarantee. It amounts to undoing the work of the Algeiras conference and reverting to the status quo ante. The powers must decide between the position of Germany and that of France; the French position we consider to be most loyal to the spirit and letter of the Algeiras act.

After an informal conference by the ministers this afternoon and the exchange of telegrams with Premier Clemenceau, The Associated Press was authorized to announce that France intends to pursue the policy already mapped out and that the powers will be allowed to decide whether her course or that of Germany is preferable.

The tone of the afternoon newspapers is temperate but firm and indicates a conviction that the opinion of the outside world will be on the side of France. The Temps declared that Germany's move proves that she intends to play her own game in Morocco. "After demanding the intervention of Europe at Algeiras," this paper says: "Germany is now pursuing a policy in Morocco without regard to Europe."

Berlin, Sept. 2.—The Bourse was somewhat affected and German consuls were weaker today following the publication of reports from Paris and London that the German circular to the powers suggesting that the speedy recognition of Mulai Hafid would be in the interests of peace had created dissatisfaction. Some apprehensions were felt here as to whether the action of Germany was not being misinterpreted abroad instead of being accepted as an act directed towards clearing up the confused situation.

Although the foreign office did not supplement in any way the simple announcement of having sent its views with regard to Morocco to the powers, yet the action of the Government had long been anticipated, because German official reports from Morocco as early as June indicated that the Sultan of record, Abd El Aziz, was losing the effective support of the tribes and his cause appeared to be lost.

The result of the battle three weeks ago in which the forces of Mulai Hafid triumphed over those of Abd El Aziz, had been foretold by the German agents in Morocco. The prevailing view here was that nothing could be subserved by indefinite delay and that it was entirely proper for Germany to suggest what appeared to be the natural course of the signatory powers, that is, to accept the situation and recognize the victorious party.

While the press and public opinion in France and England appear to be exceedingly sensitive to Germany's taking any part in Moroccan affairs, it is not believed that the French and British Governments will take any exception to what is considered here a perfectly reasonable and sound action.

TAFT AND FORAKER BURY THE HATCHET

They Meet on The Reviewing Stand of The Grand Army Parade.

ON FRIENDLIEST TERMS

The Meeting Unexpected to Taft Who Reached The City Shortly Before Parade—They Join in Pleasant Conversation.

Toledo, O., Sept. 2.—For an hour or more today the grand parade of the Grand Army of the Republic with its attendants thronged served merely as the background—the scenery of as dramatic an incident as has enlivened a political campaign in some years—namely the public meeting of William H. Taft and his erstwhile rival, Senator Joseph Foraker.

The Republican leader and his antagonist politically of the pre-convention canvass, met on the official reviewing stand, shook hands, smiled and exchanged greetings, while from thousands of throats came cheer after cheer as the significance of the incident dawned upon the beholders.

Mr. Taft, bronzed from much golf and some fishing at Middle Bass Island, ignorant of the impending meeting, arrived from the island on Commodore Richardson's power boat Jasamine at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

His progress along the streets in an automobile, accompanied by General Corbin, President Lewis, of the Middle Bass Fishing Club and Mayor Whitlock, was a continued ovation. The thousands in the reviewing stand stood when he entered and for some time after he had become seated.

Some blocks away in a barouche sat Senator Foraker, lifting his hat in response to numerous calls of his name, proceeding slowly along the line of march. Word ran through the crowd that the Senator was sure to meet with his former rival for the first time in months, and a rush was made down to the neighborhood of the stand.

The streets were packed when Senator Foraker, Governor Harris, Senator Dick and Mayor Whitlock entered the stand. A cheer which greeted the Governor suddenly gave way to a momentary hush as the familiar white head of the Senior Ohio Senator appeared. Mr. Taft held out a brown hand, smiling. Senator Foraker extended his own, white by contrast, but some one unheedingly ran between. They were checked for a moment only and then the two grasped each other in a firm handclasp. Mr. Taft smiled broadly, his ruddy face lighting up. Senator Foraker smiled likewise.

"Hello Senator," remarked Mr. Taft. "I'm glad to see you Judge. Been taking some exercise at the Springs?" "Yes, and feeling fine."

Having assured each other of perfect well being, the two Ohio leaders took their seats, chatting with each other when not interrupted, as was frequently the case, by old friends and acquaintances, or vehicles.

It was nearly 3 o'clock when the parade concluded and after a brief visit to his hotel, Mr. Taft went to the Lyceum theatre to attend the reception given by the Lincoln Republican club. He was joined by Senator Foraker and Governor Harris. Here again the evidence of the official healing of the political breach between the two leaders was vigorously applauded.

The parade was remarkable for the absence of accidents and cases of exhaustion and for the good order which prevailed. Mayor Whitlock tonight stated that despite the crowd of 100,000 visitors there had been fewer accidents, fewer misdemeanors and less work for the police generally than on any average day of the year. The weather was ideal. Aside from a veteran who was slightly bruised by being hit by an ambulance there were no accidents. Estimates of the number of veterans in line varied from 8,000 to three times that number.

The fourth Michigan carried a pole on top of which was an imprisoned rooster. On the sides of the coop were the words "We capture Jeff Davis." "We swept the ocean; you keep it clean" was an admonition the display of which repeatedly called forth cheers.

Toledo, O., Sept. 2.—That Taft and Foraker are politically together is not only the public admission of both Taft and Foraker here today, but also the political sensation of Ohio.

Senator Foraker is an avowed candidate for the United States Senate to succeed himself and his services in the National campaign have been sought by National Chairman Hitchcock and the Senator has promised to take the stump.

At a dinner given here last night by Charles T. Lewis, there was present Senator Foraker, General Henry C. Corbin and Representative J. Warren Ketter, of Ohio. This dinner resulted in an invitation to Senator Foraker to remain in this city today and attend both the review and the parade of the G. A. R. in the stand with Judge Taft, but also the reception to be given later by the Lincoln Republican club.

Judge Taft left Middle Bass Island at 6:30 o'clock this morning on a small power yacht, and after a tempestuous voyage for four hours returned to Toledo. He was taken in an automobile direct to the reviewing stand.

President Mulholland of the club introduced Mr. Taft "as the world's big man."

"It is a pleasure for me to be here with Senator Foraker," said Mr. Taft, "because when Governor of Ohio, he gave me really my first chance and took a good deal of risk of putting a man of 29 on the bench of the 'Superior Court of Cincinnati.' (Applause.) We are about to enter, or rather have entered a great political campaign. It is a pleasure to think in this presence that we are going to stand in the campaign shoulder to shoulder, with the full strength of the Republican party."

"Mr. Taft here went directly to a political argument in which he said that the real issue of the campaign was whether the voters of the country would give their endorsement to the Roosevelt policies and the deeds of the Republican party. In turn to the Democratic party with its untried promises."

After a most glowing endorsement of Judge Taft by Bishop Samuel Fallows, of the reformed Episcopal church Chicago, Senator Foraker was introduced, and was received with decided cordiality. He began by scoring the press to the extent of saying that there came near being a tragedy in his absence from the meeting during the first ten minutes of its duration, because the newspaper correspondents were preparing dispatches announcing the confirmation of the "feud and bad feeling that is existing between Judge Taft and myself." He continued:

"Under the circumstances I hope I may be pardoned if I say here in his presence—the first time I have had opportunity to say it,—that there has never, so far as I know, been the slightest ill feeling of any kind between Judge Taft and myself." (cheers and applause) "And if there had been you could not lose me that way." (laughter) "If there is anything I have a right to claim beyond another, it is that I am a Republican 365 days in the year. I have my preferences some times as to who should receive the honors of the party and everybody generally finds out what they are. But I am one of those old fashioned Republicans who settles every such question at the convention. When the Chicago convention nominated Judge Taft to be the Republican candidate for the Presidency this year, that instant he became my leader. (applause) He has been my leader ever since and will be my leader until the polls close on the night of the election."

Senator Foraker then turned to the issues with the conclusion that the great issue would be found to be "whether the administration of public affairs in this country shall be turned over to the Democratic party with Mr. Bryan at its head, or shall be continued in the hands of the Republican party."

Mr. Foraker followed this discussion with an estimate of Judge Taft's fitness for the office he seeks.

"His experience on the bench, in the Philippines, as Secretary of War, in the construction of the Panama canal, in all the positions he has filled, has been such as to qualify Judge Taft almost beyond every other man for the Presidency. (applause) We are going to elect him and if he does not make a success of it it will be his own fault."

A Bark, Over-Due, Supposed Lost With All on Board. (By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—The bark Auburndale, which sailed from Turks Island five weeks ago for this port, is missing and it is feared the vessel went down off Cape Hatteras during the West Indian hurricane which swept the coast last month. This belief has been strengthened owing to the arrival here several days ago of the schooner Republic, which left Turks Island 19 days after the Auburndale sailed.

The Auburndale was loaded with a cargo of salt. Captain E. B. Haskell was in command. Under him was a crew of eight men and a stewardess, Mary Moore, of North Carolina.

The voyage of the Auburndale should not under normal conditions have occupied more than three weeks. Several derelicts have been reported recently floating off Cape Hatteras, any one of which might be all that is left of the Auburndale.

The Pacific fleet arrived in the harbor at Honolulu and dropped anchor shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday. The towing of torpedo boat destroyers by the cruisers of the fleet was proved more or less of a success in the cases of the Preble and Perry, which did not part their lines during the voyage from San Francisco. The Whipple was obliged once to slacken speed by a chafing line. The lines to the four remaining tows parted once or twice in each instance.
